High School... a TIME of flooded halls, backpacks, books, passing periods, and friends. A POINT to think about graduation, college, and FUTURE plans. Will we be successful... RICH... happy?
Our goals will motivate us to reach for the highest POINT.
Before you know it, another school year will come to a CLOSE. For some of us, the front door will be opened for the FIRST time... for others
the LAST... until a new door opens up to the future. Only TIME will tell if a new life will bring us more unforgettable MOMENTS.
So NOW... sit back... relax... and enjoy...

Homecoming: Special box All

Homecoming is an event many students at Highland High School look forward to with great anticipation. But it's more than just the dance that students eagerly await. It's all of the week-long events which lead up to that memorable night.

Homecoming spirit was turned up a notch with activities such as the parade, bonfire, and Superstars. The Senior Class took the victory with the best Homecoming float; however, they were not so lucky at Superstars, where the sophomores and juniors conquered all.

The football team proved that the spirit was still alive by defeating Hammond Morton, 19-18, on Friday night. This, of course, led to the Homecoming dance.

Nonetheless, it proved to be a fun and exciting week for all of the students who participated in Homecoming.

Homecoming Dance: What's the Special?

The planning for the 2004 Homecoming Dance began early with dresses being bought and reservations being made. The true excitement began on Saturday, October 9, as friends and sweethearts joined together in the school's auxiliary gym for a full night of pictures, eating, and dancing. The "Trolan Diner" theme brought about many unique outfits throughout the night, including Ronald Hobbs' chef ensemble, which was topped off with a ladle.

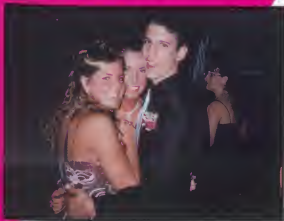

As the night progressed, Student Council President Kathy Renfrow announced seniors David Groen and Jill Odom to be crowned Homecoming King and Queen. They danced to the Temptations' "My Girl" and the night ended with smiles and plans for the rest of the evening.

The dance was a nice ending to a very successful Homecoming week. The football team took the victory at Friday night's game against Morton, and the week-long festivities attracted many students to show their school spirit. There could not have been a better ending to the extravagant week.

Turnabout: In the Midst of a Storm

Turnabout is about having a good time with your friends, making memories at the dance, and enjoying a unique experience after the dance. The Winter Wonderland theme, to say the least, was accurate. As students prepared for an exciting night, the biggest snowfall of the year made conditions less than pleasant. Still, everyone was prepared to stick it out and have a memorable night.

Everything throughout the night added to the atmosphere that made being a part of the experience worthwhile. The music, decorations, pictures, and people were a wonderful way to wind down the week after final exams. Everyone let loose and enjoyed dancing all night long.

Seniors Matt Dunlap and Elise Mihalik were announced as King and Queen, respectively, of the Turnabout dance. As they danced to their victory song, couples later joined them on the floor to begin the second half of the evening with renewed energy.

The evening was a huge success.

Heating It Up With Havana Nights!

There are many things in high school that students look forward to, but Prom would definitely top the list, and the expectations certainly lived up to the billing and hype.

"Havana Nights" 2006 Prom actually began at the high school with the Grand March, where the girls displayed their colorful dresses and the boys styled their expensive tuxedos. Grand March was also a place where parents and friends came together to see everyone all dressed up.

Shortly after Grand March ended, everyone arrived at Halls of Saint George, where Prom was held, starting at 7 p.m. and lasting until 11 p.m. Naturally, everyone had a blast, including Nick Shreffler.

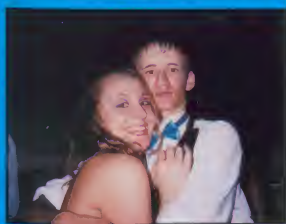

"Prom rocked my world and it is something I'll remember for the rest of my life, especially the time spent with Judd and Kyle," he said.

Summer Travels

Going the Distance

Summer is a time to relax and enjoy a little bit more of life. Some people stay home, while others choose to experience places far away from home. No matter where you are, having fun should be the main objective during the summertime.

Highland students traveled all over the world this summer. You could have found people in France, Spain, Guatemala, the Dominican Republic, and many different parts of the country. Some were vacationing, and others were working. Even if you are studying a different language in Europe, the work seems fun because you are in a different place.

Experiencing the world is an important part of growing and maturing. Seeing the way others live everyday life opens the eyes of others to a different way of living. Spending time with those who you cannot find in Highland is a unique experience that can only happen when you leave the comfortable boundaries of this small town.

High school is all about having fun with your friends, and what can be more fun than participating in an extreme sport?

If you want to be crazy or if you already are, well, extreme sports are the way to go. It's all about having fun without coaches, uniforms, and, most of all, rules. Most people try extreme sports mainly because school sports are team based. Extreme sports focus almost entirely on the individual who is attempting a daring stunt that would make other people cringe with fear.

The more you put into it, the more rewarding it is.

national honor society making the grade

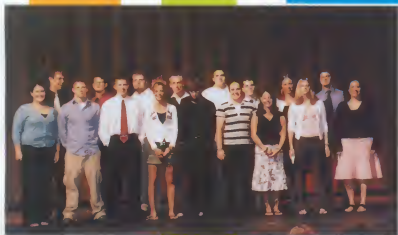

The National Honor Society is a club for all of the students who excell in their class studies. The NHS is committed to fundraising for the school and the Highland community with activities such as car washes, the College Fair, food drives, and a stuffed animal drive. The biggest fundraising event of the year was the March of Dimes, which raised awareness and funds for premature babies. Students participated in the annual March of Dimes event by going on a nine-mile walk.

Additionally, members also visit hospitals and do peer tutoring for other students who request the extra help.

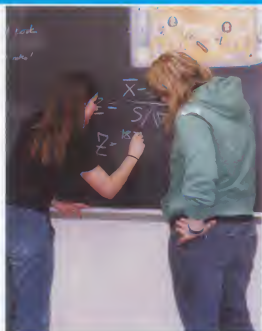

"Being in NHS is a rewarding experience," senior Maggie Liston said. "It opens up a lot of opportunities for the future and looks good to colleges."

Junior Matt Jones agreed, adding, "NHS is fun, and there's a lot to do. It's also nice to help people out who may need it."

theatre: a new identity

Each year, the Highland Theatre Company puts on its seasonal plays. However, this year there was one play in particular that got everyone's attention. This play happened to be Annie.

The play included some actors and actresses who are very well-known from another play this year, The Odd Couple. They include Lauren Brechner, Tony Hamen, Ryan Prendergast, and many others.

"Annie had a great cast, and it was one of the most wonderful experiences I've ever had the chance to be a part of," junior Tony Hamen said.

This play was not only loved by the actors and actresses, but by those who attended it. It proved to be a huge success, and was understandably heralded as the best play of the year.

foreign language clubs

— Come estas? Or, should I say, "How are you?"

That's not all the foreign language clubs do is learn the language, but they also have the opportunity to expand their cultural knowledge. They also have a great chance to meet new and extraordinary people. At Highland High School, students have the choice to participate in either Japanese, Spanish, French, or German club. Each club offers new and exciting experiences.

By joining a foreign language club, it gives the student a chance to become more familiar with his or her heritage.

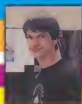

Additionally, involvement in these clubs creates opportunities to learn more about a culture that is different than your own. Finally, the best part is that each club takes a field trip relating to the culture of the language being studied.

"This was a very exciting year in the Japanese club," Jim Dempsey said. "I can't wait for next year's club. I'm sure it will be even better."

key club service by choice, not by court order

The Highland Key Club is one of the finest of its kind in the area. Key Club did many great projects this year to help the school and community. Student members worked hard raising money for charities and helping those in need.

The club's leader was President Jamie Lowry, and the club was guided in its efforts by sponsor Mrs. Ray.

This year's Key Club featured two students who were on the Indiana District Board, Nick Shreffler and Stephanie Vandiver.

Highland Key Club has earned many honors. Three members - Tim Cheek, Babe Simkus, and Lowry - were named Distinguished Club Officers, and the club itself was awarded the coveted Distinguished Club Award. The Highland Key Club also won the single service awards for completing one very successful project.

"(Key Club) teaches you many life lessons," member Justin Richards said.

making a difference

If your desire is to make a difference, then Student Council is the organization for you.

Members of Student Council are involved in a variety of activities, including planning dances, arranging fundraisers, planning Spirit Week events during Homecoming, and generally making the school a better place for everybody.

Additionally, when students have complaints or concerns or wish to express an opinion, they often times talk to a member of Student Council, and then, in turn, the member can take the concerns to administrators.

Members, which meet monthly and sometimes more often, also interact with the community and do other activities that involve the community.

band & orchestra:

hitting all the notes

Students in the Highland High School band and orchestra work very hard to get the recognition that their performances deserve.

And, as for their performances? Simply brilliant!

Both groups accomplished a great deal over the past school year. Some of the orchestra's accomplishments include earning honors in ISSMA. They also visited the Indiana Welcome Center to perform for, the one and only, Santa Claus during the holidays.

The band earned a silver award in ISSMA at the competition in Munster, and they were a special treat at home football and basketball games.

Each group achieved many goals and placed high in their activities, and through their music, they have brightened the lives of those who have had the opportunity to enjoy their performances.

choir: the joy of music

Those students involved in choir find that it is very rewarding.

Plenty of preparation goes into each concert, requiring many hours of practice and sorting through songs, and then practicing them to perfection.

But it's something each student thoroughly enjoys.

The choir performed four concerts, including a Christmas Concert and a St. Patrick's Day Concert, for the community at Monbeck Auditorium. Each of these concerts included performances by the students in Beginning Choir, Advanced Girls, and Varsity Choir.

Many of the varsity choir students qualified for state by entering ISSMA, which is a state singing competition. One of the students who qualified for state was Amy Brack, who performed one of her solos at the St. Patrick's Day concert.

Next year, the students in choir are planning a trip to Walt Disney World in Florida where they performed two years ago.

"It was a fun year," Brack said, "and I am looking forward to next year and a trip to Walt Disney World."

Each year it is the goal of the Shield staff to create an innovative yearbook which is truly amazing.

These lofty expectations were achieved through dedication and leadership. The reward is a yearbook Highland High School and the Highland community can be proud to call its own.

For the second straight year, the Shield staff produced an all-color yearbook, highlighting the theme "This point in time."

The Highland Trojans' varsity football team finished with a 6-6 record which included an exciting 17-16 victory against arch-rival Munster on a game-winning kick by senior Sam Porter.

The Trojans also won consecutive playoff games against Kankakee Valley and Gary West, respectively, to reach the sectional final. The season came to end, nevertheless, against Lowell in the championship game.

Highland was guided by first-year coach Mr. Eric Miller.

"We had a successful season," he said, "I was happy with the effort and determination of all the players."

Highland's other wins came against Culver Military (28-21), Hammond High (18-14), and Hammond Morton (19-18).

The Highland Trojans' varsity boys' tennis team finished with a 14-4 record.

Juniors Danny Tzanetakis and Brandon Kitchell led the team all season long. Tzanetakis only lost once this season, to an opponent from Lowell, which advanced him downstate. Kitchell, meanwhile, suffered his lone defeat in the regional championship where Highland was defeated by Lowell. The Trojans, though, avenged a loss to Munster to reach the title match.

The team was under the direction of second-year coach Mr. Adam Baez.

"We had a great year, including going to Regionals for the fifth time," Baez said. "We beat Munster at regionals, which was the highlight of the season; it was the first (defeating Munster) since 1988 and only the fourth time (ever)."

BOYS' CROSS COUNTRY

At this point in time...

The Highland boys' cross country team finished their season with an overall winning record. The team qualified for regionals and senior Matt Dunlap ended his season by qualifying for semistate.

"At regionals, everyone did the best they could, but we missed qualifying by two points," senior Matt Gauthier said. "We got a lot better after a slow summer and exceeded everyone's expectations."

The team's season goals included competing, gaining respect in the conference, and qualifying for semistate.

"This was a group of young men with courage, desire, and a clear view of their goals," coach Carlos Aburto said. "I hope they can live the rest of their lives with the same commitment."

The Highland girls' cross country team finished with a 7-6 record in conference meets, while the team's star runner, Jill Odom, raced her way to the state meet.

Odom, in her final season, completed a spectacular career by placing 62nd overall downstate. She has been among the area's top runners throughout her prep career.

The team, led by Odom, advanced to the regional with a very young squad.

"With only one senior and no juniors, we will be a force to be reckoned with," coach Bernie Zemen said. "We had so many good freshmen and sophomore runners this year, and they're going to keep getting better."

The Highland varsity girls' basketball team continues each year to be among the area's premiere teams. That, of course, is not a surprise to the team's faithful fans.

The Lady Trojans rolled through the season with only a few minor challenges. At one point, Highland won 10 straight games and finished with a 19-4 record.

In the sectional, though, Highland was eliminated by East Chicago Central, 43-35. Ironically, the Cardinals defeated Highland a week earlier in the regular-season finale by the same score.

The experience gained by several of the team's younger players should prove valuable for the future.

The Highland varsity boys' basketball team finished with a 16-8 record. Included in those victories were triumphs over Lake Central and Gary Roosevelt, which earned the Trojans plenty of respect throughout the area.

The team was led by Andrew Helmer in nearly every statistical category. Senior Marcus Hammonds also provided leadership and scoring punch.

The team enjoyed great success throughout the season; however, in the always tough East Chicago Central Sectional, Highland's season came to a halt against Gary West Side.

Nevertheless, Highland returns four of its five starters next year, which could very well mean that the Trojans again will be considered one of the area's top teams.

WINTER GUARD, CHEERLEADING, & DANCE

At this point in time...

Many may question the athletic talent of those students involved in dance, winter guard, and cheerleading. But make no mistake about it. These students have what it takes, and they bring plenty of spirit, enthusiasm, and tremendous support to the games.

The winter guard girls had a great year by moving from "AAA" Class to "AA" Class in one performance. The winter guard's performances include courageously spinning and throwing flags, sabres, and rifles into the air. Whether they were performing during halftime or in a competition, they did an awesome job of taking their audience into their make-believe land of Zanyland.

If you think you've had a difficult year, well, check out the Highland varsity cheerleaders. This dedicated group has had two coaches, which is always difficult, during the year. With all of the challenges the girls went through, they only became closer. They accomplished a lot by going to camp and participating in competition. They earned the title of "all-star cheerleading" for UCA.

After a long, and challenging season, the dance team finished with a 6th and 7th place finish in the IHSDTA state competition. The girls performed during numerous home soccer, football, and basketball games. During their season, the dance team placed in all seven of their competitions.

For the second time in the last three years, Highland captured the sectional title and had numerous champions along the way.

Sink advanced to the state meet in the 189-pound weight class and compiled a 37-6 record. Yuknis, at 130 pounds, was 33-6 overall.

The Highland varsity baseball team finished with a 12-18 record.

The team struggled through most of the season. Often times a promising victory would be followed by several losses before the team got back on track with another win.

The season was halted with an opening-round sectional loss to East Chicago Central. However, one of the highlights of the season came when head coach Dan Miller surpassed the 500 career-win mark in his 24th season.

Certainly, the lessons learned and the experience gained will benefit Highland greatly in the future.

One was great, but two was even better, and perhaps even unexpected.

The Highland varsity girls' tennis team captured their second consecutive sectional title, and they did it minus several key players from last year's highly successful team.

Many thought it would be a rebuilding year, and it appeared that way in the beginning. But as the season neared its end, the Trojans were playing their best tennis.

Need proof? Well, Highland swept through the sectional with impressive 5-0 wins over Calumet and Griffith, and the Trojans won six of their last seven regular-season matches.

Pretty impressive? Yes, absolutely!

It was the kind of season where nearly all of the team's dreams were fulfilled. Certainly, everything seemed to fall into place as the Highland varsity golf team put together one of its finest seasons.

Long-time coach Dan Richardson guided his team to an undefeated season in conference action. Many of the matches were decided by just a few strokes, but the Trojans emerged the winner each time.

Lenny Friend (Photo Editor)
Friend to everyone and an all around nice guy. Thanks for everything that you did.

Belt Esamak (Photo Editor)
A picture can say a thousand words, and that's how many times we thank you for all your outstanding effort.

(Editor) Madalin Murovic
I just want to say that I enjoyed making this yearbook with each and every one of you. Thank you all for the hard work! "It's 2:16 ... we can't leave ... it's too early!"

(Editor) Michele Mileusnich
Thank you for bringing out the Ferris Bueller I knew was hidden inside of me.

"Madalin, it's 2:16, let's go!"

(Adviser) Mr. Foss
Thank you for driving us to finish what has to be one of the best yearbooks. You were a great teacher to have for the past three years.

Volume 47 Shield "This Point in Time" was designed by Editors Madalin Murovic and Michele Mileusnich. The division sections were designed by Division Editors Jen Morales (Student Life, Clubs/Academics) and Gina Rayson (Sports, People). The advertising layouts were designed by Business/Ad Editors Liz Schmal and Kim Lindsey. The Senior Section of the yearbook was designed by Madalin Murovic.

This was the school's second consecutive full-color yearbook, utilizing six blended colors -- blue (C 100, M 0, Y 0, K 0), pink (C 0, M 100, Y 0, K 0), green (C 30, M 0, Y 100, K 0), orange (C 0, M 40, Y 100, K 0), purple (C 40, M 100, Y 0, K 0), and yellow (C 0, M 0, Y 100, K 0).

The dominant font highlighting the theme "This Point in Time" was Blox. Student Life headlines are in DoubleAgent43-SPBold 36 point; Sports headlines are Boulder 36 point; People headlines are Boulder 75 point for the Underclass section; Clubs and Academics are Runaway 60 point and the subhead is Runaway 30 point. All copy is done in Dateline 12 point.

All spread templates were designed using Pagemaker 4.2, and then converted to Pagemaker 6.5 for disk submission to the plant.

Mrs. Lisa Keene was our representative from Herff Jones, P.O. Box 10, 6015 Travis Lane, Mission, KS 66201; while Mrs. Susan Taylor was our representative from Root Photographers, 1131 West Sheridan Road, Chicago, Ill. 60660.

Congratulations Michele Mileusnich

It seems like yesterday that we walked you to Merkley Elementary and we asked you, "Michele, what are your goals this year?" And we did this every year since...! Then, on the first day at Middle School, as I was dropping you off...you looked at me and said, "Dad- you forgot to ask me what my goals are for this year." At this moment I really knew that you were destined for great things, and that you were not to be denied. You've done what you said you'd do.

We are so proud that you have excelled and accomplished those goals consistently and tirelessly just like the true champion you are.

*Congratulations, Mishi!
(By the way, what are your goals for next year?)*

Love,
Mom, Dad, and Mike

Bethie,
We are so proud of you and you and use you.

Br Brittany Gaesy

Growing up happens in a heartbeat. One day you're in diapers, the next day you're gone.
But the memories of childhood stay with you for the long haul. I remember a place ... a town ... a house, like a lot of other houses ... a yard, like a lot of other yards ... on a street like a lot of other streets.

And the thing is ... after all these years I still look back ... with wonder.

Andrea K. Cloe

Andrea,

May you always feel God's presence close beside you in every new direction that you take. Move confidently in the direction of your dreams.

Love you,
Always did-Always will.

The school year has come and gone. So many memories have been made and so many events have happened. The crowded hallways are emptied and the books have all been put away. Some are ready for a new destination while others might be ready for another school year. New friends have been made and old bonds have been strengthened. The Senior Lot has been emptied for the last time for the Class of 2005. By next fall, it will be ready for the Class of 2006. As time passes, the school year of 2004-2005 will be just another book on the shelf and just another point in our lives that have shaped us into the people we are and have helped point us in the directions we will choose.
